Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 22 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Another hot and sunny day. Rain later Friday.

Today:
Fine, sunny conditions continue, with fairly clear skies for most. Some cloud bubbling up during the afternoon with the odd isolated shower possible. Becoming rather breezy in exposed areas. Remaining hot, especially in the east. Maximum temperature 31 deg C (88 deg F).

Tonight:
Any showers quick to die out as the skies clear for a fine evening. Remaining very warm overnight, a tropical night likely for western parts. Cooler along the south coast. Minimum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Friday:
Another largely dry and hot day on Friday with sunny spells and very isolated showers. Turning cloudier later as heavy, thundery rain approaches, reaching all overnight. Windy in exposed areas. Maximum temperature 27 deg C (81 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Temperatures dropping to around average during this period. Blustery, heavy, slow-moving and possibly thundery showers on Saturday and Sunday with some sunny intervals. Humid, with lighter showers Monday. Breezy.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.